BIG CELEBRATION AT TYBEE ROAD OPENING

SAVANNAH PLANS TO ENTERTAIN GEORGIA IN MOST LAYISH MANNER.

Savannah, June 12.—Celebrating the completion of the road to Tybee beach, Savannah has invited the people of Savannah's zone to come here for three days, June 21, 22, 23, to see or take part in a series of events, athletic and otherwise, for which a large number of money and merchandise prizes have been offered. Perhaps the greatest feature of the entertainment will be a show on Tybee beach which will be served free to all who wish to partake of it. Preparations for the dinner already are being made and it is planned to have thousands of pounds of fish, vegetables, cake, and what not, so that every visitor to Savannah and Tybee that day, Saturday, June 23, will have no cause to complain. Savannah has raised a fund of several hundred dollars for this dinner and for the prizes of the contest. The prize of a half of cotton will be given to the winner from Georgia. Florida or South Carolina who comes in his automobile to the celebration from the farthest distance from Savannah. The program in detail follows:

THURSDAY, JUNE 21

11 a. m.—Automobile parade Savannah to Tybee. (Assemble at Duffin Park, Waters Road and Estill avenue.)

1 p. m.—Formal opening of road. Address by county and city officials Tybee pavilion.

3:30 p. m.—Military exhibition and field events by military of Fort Screven on Tybee beach. Cash prizes.

5 p. m.—Bathing girl contest. Cash and merchandise prizes.

9 p. m.—Tri-State dancing contest. Tybee pavilion. Cash prizes.

FRIDAY, JUNE 22

Morning—Bathing and other amusements.

4 p. m.—Field day athletic contests between colleges and schools. Silver loving cup prizes.

8:30 p. m.—Boxing contests. Under auspices of American Legion and Fort Screven military. Cash prizes.

9 p. m.—Tri-State dancing contest. Cash and merchandise prizes.

SAVING DAY, JUNE 23.

11 a. m.—Demonstration by girl scouts. Cash and merchandise prizes.

12 noon—Contests by boy scouts. Cash and merchandise prizes.

1 p. m.—Free show dinner.

3 p. m.—Women's swimming races. Cash and merchandise prizes.

4 p. m.—Men's swimming races. Cash and merchandise prizes.

5 p. m.—Tri-State beauty contest to determine the most beautiful girl in Georgia, South Carolina and Florida. To the winner of this contest the following prizes will be given: Silver loving cup and $175 of merchandise prizes, consisting of dress, hat, shoes to match. (Selection of costume to be made by winner of contest.)

8 p. m.—Dancing contest. Cash and merchandise prizes.

When the celebration of the opening of Tybee road was first discussed it was decided that either there would be no celebration, or else there would be one that every visitor to Savannah would be glad to attend, and it was on that basis that the plans for the event have been worked out, the prizes for the beauty contest, bathing girl contest and some others are expensive; none of the prizes will be made for any of the events.

Larry Dimmitt, who is general chairman of the committee in charge of the celebration, has made this statement: "The contests will be open to everybody; visitors specially are asked to take part; visiting boys and girls, members of school teams at athletic events with the determination to win, and it will not make Savannah people mad if all the costly prizes are won by out-of-town people."

The first day will be the formal opening of the road. Automobiles will assemble at 11 o'clock, Thursday morning, June 21, and will go in a great parade to Tybee beach. It is expected that between 5,000 and 10,000 automobiles will take part. There will be plenty of parking space arranged at Tybee so that those who

BULL WEEVIL CATCHER ATTRACTS ATTENTION

NEW INSECT FOUND ON THE WOODCOCK FARM GETS MENTION IN THE DAILIES.

The new bull weevil destroyer discovered a few days ago on the farm of C. C. Woodcock, west of Statesboro, has some in for a considerable share of newspaper notoriety the past few days. A front page space was accorded the insect by the dailies in a dispatch from Augusta last Friday.

The Times editor in company with other business men of Statesboro visited the Woodcock farm a few days ago to ascertain first hand the extent of importance of the new discovery. What he found was not sufficient to enthrone to any considerable extent over the possible importance of the new insect as a factor in bull weevil control. Mr. Woodcock had been in Statesboro a few days before and played three or four of the destroyers in a glass jar which he had taken from his cotton. He said they were devouring weevils when he found them. He placed a number of live weevils in the jar with them, and persons who saw them in Statesboro affirm that they witnessed the insects in the very act of destroying weevils in the jar. This the Times editor did not see, though he did see some dead weevils which were alleged to have been killed by the insects.

The old saying, "From Rabun Gap to Tybee Light," will take on new meaning when the Tybee road is opened, for then it will be possible to make that long trip across Georgia from point to point by automobile.

The road is built in an unusual way. The roadbed for miles is laid across the sea marshes, which look for all the world like the "marshes of Glynn." The same sand, earth, oyster shells and what not that make up the foundation were pumped from the bottom of the Savannah river by government dredges and carried in pipe lines directly to the right of way of the road. The pumping did two things: It deepened the water roadway of the Savannah river at the same time it was building a firm road for the weavers to travel on. One of the destroyers was placed in a bottle and brought to Statesboro and is now on display by Mr. Donaldson, of the Sea Island Bank. Weevils have been placed in the jar with it during its confinement and a number of persons have witnessed it in the destructive act. Instead of devouring the weevil, its method is said to be to pierce it with its sharp proboscis, which very much resembles that of what is known as a "devil's horse." After sucking the life from the weevil, it drops it.

It was said that the new insect has made its appearance in limited numbers in other cotton fields adjoining Mr. Woodcock's. As to that, however, we did not make further investigation. From the research made, we should say that there is not yet enough of a few such insects cannot amount to a factor in the control of the weevil. Whether the new destroyer will increase in sufficient numbers to warrant consideration, remains for the future. Mr. Woodcock and some of his neighbors are very hopeful. One of them is optimistic in his belief that the new insect was worth preserving, and asserted that the use of poison in the cotton field where they exist should be discontinued to give them a chance of developing their work.

EARLY COTTON BLOOMS BEGINNING TO ARRIVE

The "first" cotton bloom of the season has begun to pour in to the Times office. No less than six have come in during the week. The very first was that received Friday afternoon from John Powell, that veteran of the Register, who is a farmer of business picked up and there were three more early blooms which arrived almost simultaneously, some through the mail and others by hand. Those who contributed to the collection were Sam Moore, a colored farmer on the farm of Brooks Simmons, north of Statesboro; Simon Denny, a white farmer living five miles south of Statesboro, and Henry Miller, from the Hagin district. Other blooms have been sent in by Lester Bland, of Emitt, and Frank Sills, of Rocky Ford.

Taken altogether, though the season was late, the prospect for a good crop of cotton is believed to be improving. Blooms are said to be abundant in many farms, and the sunshine of the past week has gone far to dispel the gloom which had been produced by the two weeks of rain which preceded the sunshine.

MAN FROM FAR WEST INTERESTED IN BULLOCH

MAKES SPECIFIC INQUIRY AS TO BUSINESS AND HEALTH CONDITIONS OF SECTION.

An inquiry received by the secretary of the Ad Club from a business man from a point in the state of Idaho during the week, is interesting as indicating the questions which interest a prospective settler.

This man stated that he contemplated disposing of his interests in the western state and moving to another state. Statesboro had been brought to his attention, and he desired to know certain things about this section. What is the altitude? What is the mean average temperature summer and winter? What about banks and loan associations? What about the rates of interest? What about schools and churches?

These are not the questions of mere curiosity, but are those which naturally arise in the mind of a business man who might become a desirable acquisition to any community. Bulloch county is looking for such men as these—men who think from a business standpoint and are able to understand and appreciate the conditions about which this inquiry is made. The secretary of the Ad Club made prompt answer, and it may be that another new citizen will be headed our way as a result. Every new man who comes to Bulloch county to buy property and make his home, adds to the value of every other man's property. Every acre of farm land in Bulloch county is valuable in proportion to the demand for it, and the incoming of new citizens creates that demand. A thousand good farmers seeking location and able to understand and appreciate the conditions about which this inquiry is made, would make a cotton crop this year as the average. There is no doubt about that. I believe in cotton and am determined to stay in the market here this year. To listen to the gloom, dispensers, one would think that there was going to be none for me to buy and that I would have to move elsewhere if I bought any. Now, there is one thing certain: I am going to buy cotton if I have to go to Texas to do it, but I am not going to leave it to that. There is going to be plenty made right here in Bulloch county, and I am going to buy it right here in Statesboro.

"Another thing," he said, the farmers are doing both themselves and their tenants a wrong by their gloom forebodings. They are frightening themselves and their helpers into the belief that starvation is staring the whole population in the face. I would not blame every farm hand for leaving these farmers who are scared and talking that way. There is no reason for it. I am ready to do my part toward helping with credit where it is needed and deserved, as I always have been. Credit and confidence are necessary to any business, and the business of farming is no different from any other in that respect. But it hasn't yet come to where credit is being strained. There are plenty of good tenant farmers who are able to feed themselves right on till another crop can be made and gathered. One of my negro farmers has at the present time in his crib eighty bushels of corn; he could sell twenty and still have enough to run him; he has plenty of meat hanging in his smokehouse and barrels of syrup—more than enough to run him through the year.

"There is no excuse for all this discouraging talk about starvation and a cotton crop failure. I want to insist that it be stopped. It doesn't help to understand conditions—it rather adds to our confusion. Let everybody quit talking panic and begin to boost prosperity."

BULLOCH COUNTY BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

Owing to the fact that there has been some misunderstanding as to the dates for the convention of the Baptist Sunday School Association, I have taken this means of correcting any errors that may have been made and to announce that the convention will be held on July 6th and 7th, at the First Baptist Church, Statesboro, Ga., and that a complete program for the convention will appear in a later issue of this paper.

LEROY COWART, President.

ROADS NOT INJURED BY RECENT CONTINUED RAINS

Despite the rains which continued almost every day for two weeks, the public roads of this section are reported in good condition except where work is being done upon them. The highway to Savannah between Brooklet and Stillon, where work has been in progress since last fall, has been impassable for much of the time. Detours on both sides, by way of Lee-field on the north and the Hendrix place on the south, have seen considerable use as well as heavy rains. Both these detours gave way in places so that it was with difficulty that passage could be made by either route. With sunshine for the greater part of the past week, these roads have quickly dried out and travel even in the main highway where work is still going on is possible. The roads in every other part of the county have stood up without apparent injury from the rains. Persons coming in by automobile from Florida also report good road conditions all the way to Jacksonville. One party passed through Statesboro at 3 o'clock Monday morning, and reported that the point they left Sunday morning, from Tampa to a point 26 miles north from Jacksonville, a distance of 282 miles.

FLORIDA CITIZENS ON THEIR SUMMER OUTING

Ed Durant and his wife and a son and daughter, from St. Petersburg, Fla., were in Statesboro yesterday en route to Asheville, N. C., where they will spend the summer.

In 1886 young Durant, then a lad of 17 years, moved from the north to St. Petersburg with his parents. At that time St. Petersburg was in the woods and without even a railroad. Indeed, it was not even known as St. Petersburg, but was called Pt. Pinel.

REGISTER MYSTERY REMAINS UNSOLVED

PARTIES HELD ON SUSPICION RELEASED WITHOUT DEFINITE SOLUTION.

When the seven parties held in jail on suspicion, were released Tuesday afternoon, the mystery from Register was no nearer a solution than at its beginning ten days before.

The persons held were one young woman and six young men. The marked charge against them was riot.

In reality, the thing which was attempted to be unraveled seemed to point more directly to murder than to any other crime.

The facts as gleaned from those familiar with the case seem about as follows:

On Saturday night, June 1st, party of seven

COUNTY OFFICERS REMAIN NEUTRAL

Savannah, June 9.—The county officers association in session here yesterday decided to remain neutral in the matter of officers' fees. The debate waxed warm yesterday over a motion made by E. D. White, ordinary of Laurens county, that the proposed motion calling for "Local option" be tabled.

The fee system, the salary system and the proposal to allow each county to decide for itself which system to use were all discussed in executive session today and the final report found the association to remain strictly neutral.

A miniature edition of last summer's hot fight between Brunswick and Savannah, then over the state port location matter, was staged today the close of the session today when Brunswick invited the association to meet in that city and Savannah extended an invitation to meet here as it has done for several years. Chief Justice R. R.

Russell yesterday in his address filled his speech with Savannah, "the original Georgia city," and declared his advocacy of a state port and of Savannah as its location. Savannah today urged the convention to meet here at year's end and emphasized Tybe as Georgia's greatest playground.

Officers were chosen as follows:
 W. L. Grayson, clerk Chatham county, president; W. C. Walton, ordinary of Bartow county, vice president; Cleveland Cooper, of Milledgeville, secretary and treasurer. Judge T. H.

Jeffries, of Fulton, declined to stand for vice president.
 Congressman R. Lee Moore of the First district in a vigorous speech before the association today defended the fee system as having served well for a century.

Reports of the meeting of the various groups composed of ordina-ries, clerks, etc., were heard and the body went on record in favor of a law fixing the compensation of two physicians and one lawyer in lunacy trials. A resolution to fight the fullbrist bill, to place specific tax collections in a commission's hands was adopted.

PROMINENT IN SPORTS

(Red and White, Athens.)

At a meeting of the Bulloch variety men for the 1923 season held in Macon immediately after the last Mercer game Josh Lanier Watson, the South's best second baseman, was elected to lead the Bulldogs in 1924.
 For three years Josh has held down the position to the students, it was known that Josh would probably be elected for the next season. It is a great honor and a great athlete has been named to fill the place. Under Josh's directing hand next season the team is certain to make a great record.

THE BOLL WEEVIL WAR.

This battle to exterminate boll weevils is developing some interesting situations.

The one thing that strikes the observer most forcibly is the lack of agreement between the scientists engaged in the warfare—lack of agreement as to the real habits of the weevil and the real best method of combat.

In the city a few days ago there were agricultural leaders of acknowledged ability who were advancing their arguments on the subject. One of these had been making a trip through Florida to inspect the method now largely used in that state. He was making a report before a body of business men as to the outcome of experiments made. In brief, he reported that on May 25th he visited Madison, Fla., and witnessed the treatment of a test field of four acres.

Every square of the stalks then (and there were from two to six on each stalk, he said) was picked and a small quantity of poison was placed in the bud. He did not specify any particular poison—any recognized poison is all right, he said. On June 1st he returned and inspected the field. The stalks from the squares had been stripped ten days before had doubled in size and bore from four to eight squares each, and a weevil was to be found in the field. He asserted that ninety per cent of the cotton farmers of Florida were using this method. He told of experiments on certain test fields in 1921 and 1922. Two 4-acre tracts adjoining were subjected to the test to prove the efficacy of the method. One field was treated by the improved method and the other was left without treatment. Both were given the same cultivation. The field treated bore 1,600 pounds of lint cotton on the four acres and the one not treated produced 90 pounds. The next year the fields were reversed, the field which had been untreated the year before was given the treatment and the treated field was left alone. The result was 1,500 pounds of lint from the treated field and 200 pounds from the one not treated. These experiments, he thought were sufficient proof of the efficacy of the method he advocated.

There was present at this gathering of business men another agriculturist who is recognized as authority. He belittled the method the other had advocated. He maintained that no farmer of good judgment would destroy the first fruit which accumulated upon his stalks. This fruit, he declared, was the hardiest and best, producing the best staple and the surest to mature. "Leave your early squares on your cotton and fight the boll weevil early and hard with —the boll weevil remedy," was his urgent advice.

Both these men found sponsors among those who listened to them. At the same moment there were men upon the streets who were listening all attempts to fight the weevil. One well-known farmer of Bulloch county declared that two years ago he treated one ten-acre tract vigorously with calcium arsenate and left another tract untreated. At the close of the season, he says, he had gathered 100 pounds more lint from the untreated field than from that which he treated. He has cut out the poison this year.

Another farmer was heard telling how he lost $5,000 last year by failure to use poison. Two years ago he and his neighbor, who is a cotton picker, he produced as much cotton as his neighbor on the same area of land. Last year he omitted the poison and his neighbor beat him 40 bales, valued at $5,000. He is using poisons of every kind and boll weevil catchers this year, and thinks any man is foolish not to do so.

Two other farmers were talking on the streets. One of them declared, "The boll weevil is the greatest blessing man ever had. Providence sent him for a purpose and I for one am going to let him alone." A neighboring farmer who is rather a weevil lover, by hand offered to present the weevil admirer with all the live weevils he gathered from his cotton, inasmuch as he appreciated them so highly. The offer was promptly rejected. Which brings us to the starting point. There is a wide divergence of opinion as to the proper attribute to ward the boll weevil.

SAVANNAH'S CELEBRATION.

Savannah is planning on a mammoth scale for her Tybee road opening next week.

A schedule covering three big days—Thursday, Friday and Saturday—has been announced. The event is to be crowned with a dinner at Tybee Saturday to which thousands are being invited. Preceding this are athletic and aquatic events which will draw the crowds from far and near. It is easy to guess that Saturday—the day of the celebration—will be the big occasion. Dinners always are attractive.

There is method underlying all these plans on Savannah's part. Having completed her million dollar road between Savannah and Tybee, she wants the people of Georgia to come and get acquainted with her. She wants the people to understand what she is and what she means to the state.

Georgians are being made to more and more appreciate the importance of Savannah as a commercial center. The agitation for a state-owned port has reached a stage where it is recognized as inevitable. The people are coming to understand that better shipping facilities mean better markets; and they understand that Savannah is the logical place to develop these facilities.

Savannah is not asking Georgia to contribute to a cause of charity, but rather to wake up to the business opportunities which are involved. More than half a century ago the State of Georgia acquired a railroad which she has held to with tenacity and profit ever since. That road has been an asset which has strengthened the state's credit while it was developing her resources. It is looked upon by some as a chance almost a sacred thing. The occasional proposition to convert the road into cash and stop borrowing, has been the cause of more oratorical eruption than any other matter which has stirred Georgians. Georgia seems united in her determination to hold to her railroad.

The proposed state-owned port is a similar proposition. It is proposed that the state shall invest the people's money in a betterment which will pay cash dividends while itself is increasing in value and developing the resources of the state. All Georgia is interested in better shipping facilities. It is not a Savannah enterprise in Savannah's interest.

Georgians are to have an opportunity to acquaint themselves with the possibilities of Savannah as a port of importance when they come to the big road opening next week. It is going to be a great occasion for Savannah, and a great occasion for all Georgia.

FEES AND FAVORITISM.

A new argument advanced against the salary system as opposed to fees for county officials, is that such a change would be conducive to favoritism. That means, with an assured salary, the official would be negligent about collecting fees from his friends and the public interests would thus suffer.

There has never, possibly, been any subject which was possessed of but one side. Certainly the question of fees as against salaries for county officers is no one-sided question. It is a lamentable fact, however, that those who are expending energies defense of the fee system find a heavy tax upon their resources in advancing arguments that conceal rather than disclose the real reasons for their stand.

It is a simple proposition that any man in public office will favor that system which offers the greatest emoluments. There may be exceptions, but exceptions establish the rule, rather than disprove it. The whole and simple truth is, those who are opposed to the salary system, are opposed because it promises less compensation than the fee system. It is just as true as the other proposition that those who favor the salary system would not do so if it seemed to threaten increased cost to the public. The whole question revolves about the matter of compensation. Those who want a change, want it because they believe it will pay more for the officials. Those who oppose it, oppose it for the same reason.

All other arguments are subterfuge or erroneous. There are conscientious men who pretend to believe the public officials will not faithfully and diligently discharge their duties under any except a system of fees. That is, so much for every act of service. The fallacy of this theory is disproved on every hand.

The time was when the judge of our city court was dependent upon fees growing out of cases tried in his court. The system was changed and our judges are believed to be as faithful and zealous as they were. Even today the high county official, chairman of the board of county commissioners, through whose hands passes practically every dollar of the public funds of the county, is on salary. He is wide awake and active. Our county school superintendent, who handles the next largest amount of money, is likewise on a salary. Nobody has ever accused him of neglect of duty. These salaried officials are not showing favoritism in the administration of affairs. Indeed, there is less opportunity for them to than if they worked under a fee system. The man who works for a fee has an opportunity and the right to refund costs to his friends; they are his own property to do as he wishes. The man who works for a salary has no such opportunity and no such right—the fees do not belong to him, but to the public. He is accountable to the public.

Time was when every postoffice in the country operated upon a fee system. Some of the smaller ones do to this day. The postmaster is entitled to all the receipts from his office up to a certain amount; beyond that amount, his fees are graduated. When his fees reach a certain amount he is put upon salary—which invariably is less than the fees would be. This is done with a view to saving to the public. Nobody has ever heard of a postmaster refusing to retain his office because he was changed from fees to salary; neither has anybody ever heard of a postmaster showing favoritism or neglecting his duty on that account. If he did so, there is ample remedy for his case.

The issue is one which cannot be evaded, no matter how hard one may attempt to sidestep it. It is solely a question of pay. The man now working for fees would not oppose a change if he did not have reason to believe his income would be reduced. If he did, he deserves to be placed along in the freak department among the pre-historic animals in the museums.

PAY IN ADVANCE.

We wish every subscriber thought enough of this paper to pay his or her subscription in advance. Many of them do, but some do not. We think a great deal of our subscribers. There is nothing within the bounds of reason we would not do for them. But some thoughtless souls overlook some facts concerning this paper which we now bring to their attention.

Subscriptions do not sustain the paper. It takes lots of advertising to make up the deficit between the cost of running this paper, and the subscription revenue.

It costs money, time and effort to secure subscribers and keep them renewed. That cost must be passed on to subscribers and advertisers. The losses in the business must be absorbed by the profits, if there are any.

Certain credit arrangements are essentially necessary in any business. We have been pleased to extend a reasonable credit on subscriptions to subscribers who needed credit. But we cannot believe that all who accept credit really need it. Certainly credit should not be considered for an indefinite period.

Our subscription list is a permanent asset of this paper. Many subscribers have been listed for years and years. They are like old friends to a publisher. If we had to go out and renew every subscriber, our subscription costs would be prohibitive. We are striving to furnish a high-class publication at lowest cost. Your co-operation in the matter of subscription payments is earnestly requested.

ANOTHER DOG LOST.

The governor of Maine recently ordered the flag of his state capital lowered to half mast when his dog died. This, he said, was an expression of appreciation for the example of devotion and faith exemplified by the dog's life.

Another story of a lost dog is in the prints today. A farmer in the Moultrie neighborhood lost a hound puppy. Driven by sorrow, he undertook to dispel gloom in the shine cup. He landed first on the roof of his house where his lamentations were so hideous that his neighbors were disturbed. We went from there to jail for disturbing peace.

Both manifestations of appreciation of their dogs are unusual and extreme, though the methods are somewhat similar. Both appeal to the public for sympathy and they went upon the house-top to do it. The governor pulled the state flag half way down from the roof, and the farmer went to the very highest pinnacle of his own roof. The only difference in their methods was that the farmer paraded his private grief over his private house-top; the governor paraded his grief on the state capital.

OVER STEAMER HAS NEW RIVAL IN "SEA SLED"

Colombia Plans to Use Motorboat in Commerce.

Washington. — The first extensive commercial adoption of the "sea sled" type of motorboat is announced by the Pan-American union as about to be made in the republic of Colombia, where boats of this type will be used to carry mail and passengers from the sea coast to near Bogota.

The former method of communication between the capital and Barranquilla, the seaport, was by slow river steamers which took about twelve days to make the 600-mile journey up the Magdalena river to the end of the railroad leading into Bogota. All rail communication is impracticable on account of the high mountains between the capital and the coast.

The "sea sleds" will be tripped in two days. The first to be tripped, the "Luz," made 30 miles an hour with 60 passengers. The craft is 50 feet long, 12 feet beam and draws only six inches of water, making it possible to navigate the shallows of the river at all stages. Power is furnished by four six-cylinder, 25-horse power engines, using about 80 gallons of gasoline an hour. The boat has cabins fore and aft and is electrically lighted.

The new experiment in navigation is attracting much attention in South America because of the importance of the rivers there for that purpose and the difficulties formerly encountered because of slow water. The West Coast Leader of Lima, Peru, says in a recent issue:

"This new development in commercial motorboat construction shows the possibilities of opening up a wide field along lines that have never before been attempted."

Veteran New England Square Rigged Vessel

The big steel bark Eugenia Emilia is shown drying her sails at the New Bedford, Mass., state pier, under the first warm spring sun. A sight such as this is very rare.

The Emilia was engaged in the packet trade between Cape Verde Islands and New Bedford, until seized by the government after her last voyage because of carrying contraband liquor and dope. She was sold at auction under a government bill ordering customs penalties. She is a craft of 80 tons and was a former German boat.

False Teeth Choke Man Falling in River

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Charles E. Logan, marine engineer on the government steamboat Swan, was choked to death by his false teeth when he fell into the Monongahela river.

It had been thought Logan was drowned when he fell into the water while hurrying back to his boat from a visit to his four-year-old daughter. He had dreamed the child had been drowned and hurried home to learn the dream was false.

Grave Digger Finds 55 Snakes. Strattonville, Pa.—A nest of 55 garter snakes was dug up here by Frank Freeman and Anthony Richardson, Jr., while they were digging a grave in the Methodist cemetery. The grave diggers were down about four feet when the wriggling mass of reptiles was unearthed.

Gets $1,000 to Repay $1 Loan Made in 1912

Hornell, N. Y. — Edward Congdon, Erie train dispatcher, has received a draft for $1,000 in payment of a loan of $51 in 1912. Congdon and Jake Griffin of Onondaga County were friends in Japan. They met later in San Francisco, where Griffin was broke. Congdon bought him a ticket to Omaha and gave him a money order. Griffin promised to repay. Congdon got a letter from an Omaha lawyer saying Griffin had been deposited to his credit by Griffin.

SAVANNAH SEEKING A SNAPPY SLOGAN

CONTEST WILL CLOSE THE LAST OF JUNE ACCORDING TO THE RULES ADOPTED.

Savannah Board of Trade, Savannah, Georgia, June 1, 1923.—To the Public Generally:

The directors of the Savannah Board of Trade—as individuals—offer for a cash prize of $100.00 to the person submitting during the month of June, 1923, the best slogan for Savannah, subject to the following rules:

(1) The contest is open to any body, anywhere, and contestants may submit as many slogans as they desire, but all slogans to be eligible must reach the board committee by noon, June 30, 1923.

(2) Slogans must be brief, clear cut and reflect in as few words as possible, Savannah's advantages as a city. No advice as to the number of words is offered, but obviously, a short slogan, all other things being equal, is the best. Sometime ago, there was originated a slogan: "Savannah, The Southern Key to Land and Sea." This was a splendid slogan and illustrates the idea. The directors believe that someone will originate under this contest, a slogan which will have a great advertising value to our city.

(3) Write your slogan or slogans on one side of a sheet of paper, placing your name and address at the top of the sheet. The committee cannot undertake to answer inquiries about the contest by correspondence. All slogans should be delivered or mailed to Savannah Slogan Contest, Savannah Board of Trade, Savannah, Ga.

(4) At the request of the directors the following slogan committee will handle the details of this contest and that proper publicity is given to it: I. Slater Call, chairman, Thomas A. Jones and George S. Clark, vice chairmen.

(5) As soon as possible, after June 30th, a special committee of judges will pass on the slogans and decide which one is the most representative and the best. This committee consists of the following gentlemen:

Mayor Paul E. Seabrook, Carleton B. Gibson, superintendent, Chatham county schools, Rev. Dr. Neal L. Anderson, pastor, Independent Presbyterian church and J. M. Mallory, general industrial agent, Central of Georgia Railway. The decision of this committee will be final.

The directors take pleasure in offering this stimulus for new ideas and believe that there are thousands of people interested in our great city and that many of them will have constructive thoughts which will be of value. Let's go to it with enthusiasm and civic pride, and see how well each one can do.

Yours faithfully,
GEO. J. BALDWIN, Pres.

UPSHAW MAY OPPOSE SENATOR W. J. HARRIS

Atlanta, June 12.—Congressman William D. Uphaw, of Atlanta, tonight authorized the statement that he is seriously considering making the race for the United States senate against Senator William J. Harris.

"I have been importuned from all over the state to make the race," said Mr. Uphaw, "and while I am not ready to say anything definite about it at this time you are authorized to say that I will have a statement to make in response to those numerous importunities in a short while—a very short while."

"IN A BAD WAY"

Many a Statesboro Reader Will Feel Grateful For This Information.

If your back gives out; if you are lame, weak or aching; if urinary troubles set in; if perhaps your kidneys are "in a bad way."

Doan's Kidney Pills are a weak kidney. Local evidence proves their merit. Mrs. J. J. Thompson, 121 south College street, Statesboro, says: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. I had an attack of kidney trouble and could hardly get around. There was a severe throbbing through the small of my back and my feet bloated badly. I suffered from severe pain in the back of my head. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, getting my supply at the Bulloch Drug Co., and they soon rid me of the trouble. I feel like a new man now. I am again prepared to accept subscriptions to magazines and periodicals as in the past. I shall appreciate any business in that line given me."

NOTICE

Just a few days to state right here that we are doing all we can at all times to give the best service we can. But unless we have the help of our customers in cleaning and using our bottles each night, it makes it very hard on us as it is expensive to have so much money invested in bottles and there is no one that can take the expense of any business enterprise.

In spite of the tight times of getting money, our expenses are getting higher, as bottles and caps have advanced, caps 80 per cent, bottles 2 per cent and gasoline about 30 per cent, although we are retaining mill every day, cut's off at the same amount as before the World War.

Now, there is no business that can continue to run along losing money hoping you will all consider what we have said and help us in our expenses as it will benefit each of us.

Thanking you for your past patronage and soliciting more in the future. Yours truly, Important new irrigation work is about to be undertaken by the Egyptian government on the Nile delta. The construction of a reservoir at Djebel Aulia will add Egypt in cultivating almost any quantity of rice, will abolish the rice famine, breaking the cotton monopoly, will supply the water necessary for irrigation by ditches, and will improve the unutilized areas.

Experts in the Egyptian irrigation service believe the reservoir will prevent the foundation of a large area of land in southern Sudan, and save to the Egyptian government a large sum which it has been paying as compensation for damage done in areas.

The cost of the new undertaking will be about $15,000,000.

PERCHES SAVE BIRDS' LIVES

Simple Idea Which Has Resulted in the Preservation of Thousands of Migrating Songsters.

Bird lovers in Great Britain will soon be watching for the return of their first migratory and these, especially who live near the sea will remember the kindly thought of the Royal Society for the Protection of Birds in its work of providing resting places and perches on the light houses, without which great numbers flutter round and round the dazzling light until they fall.

It was thought at one time that the birds attracted by the light dashed against the glass, but the Dutch nautical men discovered that the birds merely flew round and round the lighthouse, and the device of putting up a screen to which they might cling and rest before resuming their journey by daylight. The experiment was first tried at the great Terschelling light, where the destruction was reduced from a thousand in a night to a hundred in a season.

The Bird Protection society has now set up these perches on four English light houses: The Caskets, St. Catharine's, Spinn Head light house and the South Bishop light house. Each equipping with 400 and 500 a year upkeep. The society hopes, as funds allow, to extend the plan to other light houses, where many thousands of birds are falling every migration season.—Christian Science Monitor.

ADDING TO WAR'S CASUALTIES

Buried Shells Continue to Do Deadly Work in France—Tragedy in Parisian Hotel.

Shells buried in northern France during the war continue to explode occasionally when struck by peasant plows, adding to the war casualties four years after the cessation of hostilities. The question is often asked whether an unexploded shell ever becomes harmless. Some experts say never, unless exposed to the air, while others contend that live shells become "duds" after many years.

The theory of the latter group is hardly borne out by an incident which recently occurred in a Paris hotel. A projectile of the time of Napoleon III had long been used by the hotel employees as a waste receptacle, and had several times been fitted with new handles to replace those pounded off. Recently it was left in close proximity to the hotel furnace, and the result was the death of a waiter.

The colors of Pee Gee Flatkoatt do not fade, and if soiled are easily restored to their original beauty with a moist cloth or sponge, thereby saving you the expense and inconvenience of frequent re-decoration.

Preserving Old Relics.

Paraffin was mixed in benzine is used in preserving many of the relics found in Tut-Ankh-Amen's tomb. The surface of the relic is also sprayed with a diluted solution of celluloid dissolved in a mixture of amylacetate and acetone. Outlets are covered with a heavy coat of paraffin wax, which may be removed by heat. The leather goods are found to be black, brittle and rummy-like, breaking in small fragments when touched.

Airplane Saved Marooned Party.

Far up in the mountains at the head of American Fork canyon, Utah, two men and a woman were marooned and starving in a tiny cabin. Heavy snows had cut off the two miners and the woman from civilization. As air mail service plane was sent to the rescue. The pilot circled the cabin and dropped a package of supplies sufficient to maintain the party until they could get out to civilization.

T. E. L. MEETING.
The T. E. L. class of the Baptist church held their regular business meeting Thursday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, in their class room.

The meeting was opened with a short prayer. Mrs. J. L. Zetterower, our much-loved president, took charge of the business for the hour.

Mrs. Page read the minutes of the last meeting.

The class has done splendid work with Mrs. H. E. Strange as our teacher.

Our report for the past four months shows we have made 874 visits to the sick; $43.35 given to the poor; 200 trays; 113 visits in interest of the Sunday-school; 200 flowers; 300 magazines. We have had two girls to graduate and feel proud of them.

We expect to school another boy or girl next year. The class decided to buy a new pulpit seat for the church.

The class is never idle. If you want anything done, just call on the T. E. L. Sometimes our job looks big but we always go over the top.

After our business hour we all enjoyed talking and planning together.

Group 1 served delicious sandwiches and tea. Everyone enjoyed the meeting. Hope to have all the members with us next time.

Pross Chairman.

SUMMER SCHOOL TO OPEN NEXT WEEK.

We shall begin a five or six-week session of summer school next Monday morning, June 18, at 8 o'clock.

The primary purpose of this summer school will be to enable students with conditions to work off these conditions where it is possible.

We do not wish any students whose work is such that it will be impossible for them to pass off their work during the session of summer school.

It is probable that we may offer classes to those who may wish to review preparatory to taking the county school examination in August, and such course will be offered if a sufficient number apply.

Reasonable rates will be charged for all work, and bills must be paid within one week of entry.

The school will be conducted in the graded school building, and a sufficient number of teachers will be provided to amply care for all work offered.

PROTECT YOUR COTTON FROM THE BOLL WEEVIL.

I want to inform the farmers of Bulloch county that I have accepted the agency for the sale of Weevil-Nip in this county.

Not wishing to attempt to sell any of it till I had made a thorough test, I have used it on my farm with the following results:

On a five-acre tract I applied the poison. First I inspected the cotton and found as many as twenty weevils to the row. After the first application I found the weevils had been reduced by ninety-five per cent.

Having made a second application I hold a made an offer of 50 cents for every weevil found on my tract, and 10 cents for every punctured square.

I am on my farm in the Bay district, 19 miles from Statesboro and six miles north of Pembroke.

If you are going to fight the boll weevil, go to it right away—and be sure to use Weevil-Nip.

MISS BESSIE BLITCH.

Miss Bessie Blitch, aged 35 years, died Tuesday morning at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rushing, on South Main street, where she had made her home for several months. For ten years Miss Blitch had been an invalid, and for a long time her condition had been acute. She bore her suffering patiently, and her happy disposition endeared her to those who came in contact with her during her long illness.

Interment was at Fellowship church cemetery, near Stillson, Wednesday afternoon, the services being conducted by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Kitchen, and Rev. W. D. Horton, former pastor. Her mother, who also lived with her at the Rushing home for a time, died only a short time ago. She is survived by six brothers—Chas. G. James H., T. N. and Sam Blitch of Blitchton, B. D. Blitch, of Brooklet, and and B. E. Blitch of Homerville. Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Denmark, who have made their home in Athens during the past year while Mr. Denmark attended law school, are in Statesboro for the summer.

COUNTY AGENT IS WANTED FOR BULLOCH

PETITION SCHOOL BOARD TO EMPLOY MAN TO LEAD ORGANIZATION WORK.

If the progressive farmers of Bulloch county will lend their aid to an effort which has just put under way, Bulloch county will have an active county agent next year to lead in the various important phases of community organization so badly needed for this county.

The business men of Statesboro, following along lines which have been under consideration before the Statesboro Advertising Club since its inception two years ago, have this week put in motion the effort which promises to bring the question to an early conclusion. This effort consists of sounding the sentiment of the farmers of the county with a view to ascertaining their wishes in the matter. Committee have canvassed practically every section of the county and have asked farmers and business men as they came to them to sign cards expressing their preferences for or against the employment of a county agent. The results have been overwhelming in favor of the proposition.

Those who are advocating the employment of such an agent, are doing so upon the strength of the work which at this time is being done in other counties by such employee. Almost every daily paper one picks up there is an important instance of service rendered by "the county agent" in some progressive county of Georgia.

FOREIGN EMIGRANTS LOOKING SOUTHWARD

BIG OPPORTUNITIES ARE OFFERED TO THRIFTY FARMERS IN GEORGIA.

Atlanta, June 13.—That many immigrants could be induced to locate in the South if they were intelligently informed of the advantages this section offers is the opinion expressed here today by industrial leaders and agriculturists.

Discussion of the subject has arisen as the result of the negro exodus in Georgia and other southern states, which is said to have crippled farming operations in many sections.

If a campaign of any size were to be undertaken, which has been suggested, advertising truthful information should be placed before the people of those countries from which immigrants are desired, it is pointed out, so that when the people left their native countries they would come directly to the South.

Southern senators have conferred with the Swedish and Norwegian ministers in Washington, in regard to interesting them in having natives of their countries locate in the South. It was stated that although many immigrants of the two countries have come to the United States in the recent past, they went to the Middle West as a latitude similar to that from which they came. These immigrants were said to be good farmers and a great many of them experts in cattle raising, dairying and other farm activities; in other words, they are prepared to carry on agriculture other than cotton raising.

Agriculturists from various sections of Georgia who have discussed the matter here do not hesitate to say that the immigrants described are the kind that the South could well use. They not only come as experienced farmers, but they usually come with sufficient money to buy farms. And above all, they are naturally good citizens and easily assimilated in the South.

Cattle raising and dairying on a commercial scale, experts here say, might be said to be in their infancy in this state, but these industries have been carried far enough to prove that they may be profitably engaged in here. Many Georgia farmers are gradually turning to these lines and using them to good account now, and the locating in Georgia and other southern states of a goodly number of people experienced in the work would give these industries an impetus that would enrich the state as a whole and the rural sections in particular.

There is plenty of room in Georgia for good citizens, and the state is being established good homes and producing wealth. Several Georgia counties—Wilkes county in particular, are waging intensive campaigns to bring new settlers. Options on many thousand acres of land have been placed by the Kiwanis Club of Washington, Ga., in the state by establishing good homes and producing wealth.

STATSBORO YOUTH KILLED IN SAVANNAH

"TOOTSIE" PARKER IS KILLED WHEN MOB ATTEMPTS TO TAKE NEGRO FROM JAIL.

Oscar C. ("Tootsie") Parker, aged 20 years, son of O. C. Parker, formerly of Statesboro, was killed in Savannah at an early hour Tuesday morning when a mob of several thousand men attempted to take a prisoner from the county jail.

The prisoner wanted was Walter Lee, a negro said to be 18 years old, charged with assault upon a white woman in West Savannah Monday afternoon. Lee was captured by officers late Tuesday afternoon and lodged in jail.

About midnight a mob congregated at the jail for the avowed purpose of taking the negro Parker, who was present, was shot the ball passing entirely through his body. He died before reaching the hospital to which he was rushed immediately after he was shot. It was said that Lieut. Loevey Morgan was forcing a recalcitrant member of the crowd back over the dead line when he heard the shot and the wounded man staggered behind him with a pistol ball in the stomach. The shot came from the crowd and possibly was intended for the police lieutenant. George Bart, also in the storming party, was shot through the arm by the same bullet which killed Parker, and narrowly escaped death from loss of blood. Mayor Seabrook, who was among the crowd trying to quell the disorder, was also at Parker's side when he was shot.

In addition to the city and county police force, approximately 150 militiamen were called in the defense of the prisoners. Machine guns were placed about the jail with instructions to shoot if necessary.

Perhaps the most telling service was given by the city firemen,
